ASSESSMENT ITEMS

1. Interpretive Assignments on two selected texts, one from the OT and one from the NT, with an optional third. (Carries 35% of total grade).	Choose two class sessions for which to prepare in advance and submit to the lecturer (before class begins) an interpretive assignment on the scheduled weekly text. Of these two assignments, one must be written on an Old Testament Text and one on a New Testament text. Available texts with corresponding due dates are specified in the course schedule above (see 'Focus Text' column). Students who wish to do so may turn in a third assignment (on either testament), and only their two highest grades will be factored into the final grade. For detailed expectations on writing interpretive assignments see PDF entitled 'Some Comments on Interpretive Assignments' (available via Moodle). Sources: Students are not expected to consult secondary sources (though they must properly cite any they do), but to do their own close reading of the text. Word Count: 1,350 words (two pages single-spaced), for a total of 2,700 words combined for both assignments. Due date: First one must be submitted by Week 5; second one before end of trimester (allow time for feedback on the first one).
2. Bible Study Presentation (Context Analysis) (Carries 30% of total grade)	The purpose of this assignment is for you to critically compare and contrast a naïve reading of the Bible with a hermeneutically-grounded approach to interpreting the Bible, with consideration of the varied contexts of both the biblical materials and contemporary readers. Specific instructions: Write an introductory session for a group Bible study in which you: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Describe the importance of considering the genre of biblical texts;

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Describe the importance of considering the socio-cultural realities of the world out of which the biblical texts arose; Give at least one example of how reading a biblical text from the perspective of a (post-)modern understanding of its genre can lead to a misreading of the text; Give at least one example of how reading a biblical text from the perspective of a (post-)modern socio-cultural reality can lead to a misreading of the text; and Conclude by teaching your listeners about the importance of considering the genre and socio-cultural realities of biblical times (either OT or NT) when reading biblical texts (either OT or NT). Sources: This assessment requires the standard number of references for this level of study, which is a minimum of 5 sources. Word Count: 1,500 words. Due date: Week 10 (after Study Week B).
3. Interpretive-Research Assignment on Romans 6:1-14, that evinces both a close personal reading of the text and a critical engagement with the range of appropriate secondary resources. (Carries 35% of total grade)	The interpretive-research assignment assesses foundational interpretive methodological knowledge, the analysis of the original and contemporary contexts in light of the text, and the practical use of basic interpretive ministry skills. Students should show evidence of research with critical considerations based on competing views between scholars. The assessment should include thoughts on how biblical texts speak into ministry contexts today. Specific Instructions: Like the shorter interpretive assignments turned in earlier in the trimester, this assignment should focus upon your own close reading of the text, in this case of Romans 6:1-14 (detailed expectations for interpretive assignments are available in the PDF entitled “Some Comments on Interpretive Assignments”). Unlike the earlier interpretive assignments, however, this final report should also incorporate research from secondary sources (articles/chapters, books, commentaries). IMPORTANT: use these secondary sources as resources to help you answer the questions we are using for the interpretive assignments, not to add material to your paper that is irrelevant to our set of questions. Sources: This assessment requires the standard number of references for this level of study, which is a minimum of 5 sources. Word Count: 2,000 words. Due date: Friday of Week 13 (the last week of the trimester).
The deadline for assessments is 11:55pm uploaded via PBC Online on the day the class is scheduled in the trimester week indicated, unless specified otherwise.

Students should also have a working knowledge of PBC's Assessment Policies (www.pbc.wa.edu.au) and then Student Portal/Useful Links/Policies & Procedures/ Assessment Policies) to assist in completing this unit.
